

INVITATION

INSPIRATION FOR A SUSTAINABLE WORLD

World renown National Geographic photographer and filmmaker

Mattias Klum

At Maitisong, August 4th, 6 - 7 pm

The Terra Magna Foundation is proud to announce a presentation by one of the worlds leading photographers. Mattias Klum, Swedish, Young Global Leader for the World Economic Forum and a frequent contributor to National Geographic, will share selected award-winning images and experiences from more than two decades of documenting some of our worlds most vulnerable ecosystems. Touching on hot issues of climate change. Loss of habitat and biodiversity, Mattias Klum delivers a resonant and cautionary message, encouraging us to lighten our footprints on Earth and to consider the legacy we will leave to those who follow. The Terra Magna Foundation has as its main purpose to find and to develop a new modern sustainable storytelling generation.
